The BCB Difference— Customer Service Unlike Any Other!

Whatever your needs may be, BCB Homes has a commitment to fulfill them. . . One of the many factors that sets us apart from other builders, is our level of service that extends far beyond the standard one year warranty. Our relationship with clients begins well before construction and lasts past the completion of your home. "Being involved in servicing our clients' homes gives us the opportunity to maintain their residences to the standards needed, which keeps the homes in pristine condition and allows us to continually learn and therefore build better homes," said Harold Robair (Superintendent).

BCB Homes' On-Call Service Department operates 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, so you can rest assured that your needs will be taken care of promptly and efficiently by the best service team in the industry. "I am proud to be a part of BCB Homes, because I believe we have the most dedicated and loyal customer service department in the industry. Our customers are not just clients - to us, they are family," said Jamie Huntington (Executive Assistant of Warranty).

Here at BCB Homes, we like to say that "service is a relationship— not a department". We feel that this commitment to our clients and to our product guarantees that your experience with us will exceed your expectations!

BCB's "Green" Corner

BCB has a commitment to protect Southwest Florida's beautiful communities by using methods of developing and building that are environmentally friendly.

This Quarter's Green Strategy:

HEALTHY HOMES

Spray expanding foam insulation

Spray Foam Insulation is a high-performance insulation and air barrier system that works to minimize the intrusion of outdoor pollen, allergens, pollution, heat and humidity from entering the home. This system seals the home, which controls moisture transfer through the building envelope and increases the energy efficiency of the home.

Sealed A/C ducts during construction

Duct registers, boxes and other openings are protected during construction to ensure the cleanliness and integrity of the air conditioning distribution system. BCB Homes keeps ducts sealed until A/C system start-up or until all interior finish work is complete, keeping the home healthy.

Points of Construction—Featured Method

Here at BCB Homes, we aggressively search for the most state-of-the-art construction methods and materials to minimize maintenance and prevent potential problems.

That is shown in our Insulation Process...

Our approach to insulation solves the potential problems with mold, mildew, rot, and water damage.

We use insulation that is breathable and allows for any moisture that inevitably comes in from the exterior to evaporate before causing any interior damage.

Foil-backed insulation can present serious problems. As water leaks through cracks in the stucco, it's trapped between the foil covered insulation and the painted outside wall.

The moisture trapped in the walls promotes mold and rot, and eventually, the water can leak into the interior through gaps or nail holes damaging drywall, woodwork and carpeting.
