BCB Homes Hires Local Graduates To Build A Skilled Labor Workforce

High School is not often viewed as a launching pad for lifelong career opportunities, but with the collaboration of local businesses and innovative high school counselors, Naples area teens are working to create their own future. During scheduled career fairs, students in the construction academies at Palmetto Ridge High School and Lely High School are able to learn more about the opportunities available directly from business owners. BCB Homes has been a leader in this community outreach program that, in turn, benefits the company by ushering in a new generation of skilled labor in an aging workforce.

Since their first high school graduate hire in 2008, BCB Homes has started four young men on a stable career path in their home community that provides ample opportunity for advancement. Edgar Garcia was hired upon graduating from Immokallee High School, and has advanced in BCB Homes to be a leader in the Building Science Division of the company. Carlos Moreno and Alex Gomez were also hired directly out of high school and are advancing in the ranks of the vital task in Southwest Florida of waterproofing. Luis Hernandez-Garcia was hired in 2015, and works on the drywall crew.

BCB Homes is helping students find the lens to view construction work as a lifelong career rather than a fall back job. This summer the company will have 4 interns for 6 weeks. The hope is that the students will return to work full time for the company after they graduate. Eric Morris, Vice President, says, "We utilize the program because it helps us to get students to learn our culture at a young age, and we can train them in the skills and practices that we set forth." He calls the graduates a "fresh set of eyes who are excited to learn." Morris recognized a difficulty in finding skilled workers in the booming Naples market, and sees this as an opportunity for the company to create their own capable and knowledgeable crew.

New Products Make Florida Living Easy & Fun

One of the things BCB Homes takes great pride in is keeping up with the latest real estate trends. Not only when it comes to building methods, but also new products.

One such product is Loewen's LiftSlide glass panel exterior doors. We've all experienced the heavy impact sliding glass doors that need a weightlifter to push open.

That's not the case with Loewen's LiftSlide impact-rated sliding door. It's tandem ball bearing rollers and almost-unnoticeable stainless steel tracks allow expansive glass panels to roll smoothly and easily during operation. With the touch of a hand the LiftSlide mechanism effortlessly carries glass panels weighing up to 850 pounds. And the track only protrudes 3/16 of an inch above the finished floor.

Residential Building magazine named Loewen's LiftSlide doors one of the hottest things on the market. Nigel Maynard wrote: "Because large open spaces are all the rage, large sliding patio doors that bring the outside in are very desirable. As a result, the doors have been extremely popular with builders, architects and consumers."

And that includes many BCB Homes' clients as well. In recent months, BCB has installed Loewen's LiftSlide doors in a number of beautiful homes throughout the Naples area and the homeowners could not be more delighted. Not only do the doors better protect indoor/outdoor spaces from the elements, but they also add a higher level of security.

The easy-sliding glass doors often lead to outdoor living areas – which takes us to our next must-have product – outdoor grills. To be specific, Evo grills.

It's no secret, families love spending time outdoors. And nothing brings people together more than a great meal. That's where the new Evo grill comes in.

The exceptional performance of Evo's circular cooking surface is the result of a single, slightly-crowned piece of steel that's formed with a flanged edge to trap heat, then oil-seasoned multiple times to promote a natural non-stick cooking surface.

With its circular flattop cooking surface, Evo lets you prepare virtually any cuisine from any angle. By cooking foods directly on the cooking surface, outdoor chefs can sear, saute, grill, toast and stir-fry. Indirectly, pots or pans to boil, braise, poach or steam can be used.

Evo grills and Loewen's LiftSlide doors. Just two of the many innovative products BCB Homes champions to make living in Southwest Florida a little easier – and a lot more fun.

Safety Achievement Award: 1000 Days Accident-Free!

Congratulations to our entire field team for surpassing the 1000th consecutive day of no lost time work related accidents! This is an amazing achievement and very impressive considering the size of our labor force and the nature of our business.

Eric Morris and Isaac Aikey accepted the award from Amerisure Insurance and Gulfshore Insurance.

"This is by far the longest we have ever gone as a company with this kind of safety track record. I am so proud of our team for this amazing accomplishment...it takes everyone on the jobsite working together to achieve this milestone!" Eric Morris, Vice President of BCB Homes, Inc.
