Since 1993, Naples-based BCB Homes has been building and remodeling custom homes and condominium residences throughout Southwest Florida.

BCB Homes was founded by a group of second-generation builders who continue to set high standards in luxury residential construction by combining the latest technologies with proven Old-World traditions.

A leader in Building Science, BCB Homes has researched, identified, diagnosed and resolved a variety of building issues to eliminate construction problems before they happen. Homeowners contemplating a remodeling project appreciate our Testing & Diagnostic Team who utilize a forensic approach to identify issues in existing residences.

With over 300 clients from Marco Island to Sarasota, BCB Homes is committed to making your building experience enjoyable and stress free. So if you're looking to build a new home or considering remodeling your current home, be sure to contact BCB Homes.

Highest Value With BCB Homes

The proof is in the numbers and we continue to set the bar higher when it comes to home building and home renovation in Southwest Florida. Not only do our clients who build or remodel with us know this from first-hand experience, but the clients purchasing a BCB Homes' resale product also see our quality finishes with the most advance construction technologies in the homes they purchase. What this means is BCB Homes product has yielded the highest sales price of single family homes in the Port Royal, Aqualane Shores and Olde Naples neighborhoods.

We don't just build and remodel homes, we spend a tremendous amount of time and effort listening to our clients and researching the best methods, products, systems and technologies in the building industry. Then we take it a step further and we leverage our industry relationships using the synergy we have created with architects, interior designers, and engineers to actualize our end goal – crafting a remarkable product that will last a lifetime, without taking a lifetime to build it.

Ultimately, our construction process is differentiated by the rigorous testing we do across every system in every home to ensure that performance and quality are surpassing conventional building standards long after the client moves in. We believe in elevating our building and business principles to create homes that are healthy, efficient, safe, and superior in every measurable way.

"We are proud to be industry leaders redefining home building standards and continually exceeding the most discerning of expectations." - Joe Smallwood, President and CEO.

For Sale: 1076 Nelson's Walk

This home is boasting the most idyllic setting in all of Port Royal with unobstructed, wide-water, views and preferred southern exposure. With classic Palm Beach infused architecture by Jeffrey A. Harrell Architects, the quality craftsmanship of BCB Homes, this stunning estate is destined to raise the bar on Port Royal excellence. Complemented by a separate guest house that seems to ascend from the resort-style pool, this unique property offers attributes and vistas that others simply cannot provide. The estate combines luxurious sophistication with a remarkable level of livability. The two-story, five bedroom, five full-bath and two half-bath estate features 6,625 square feet under air and a total of 10,896 square feet.

Part of the guest house hangs over the pool, so there is contact with the water not only from the view, but also between the water and the home itself. The design also incorporates a variety of outdoor spaces of formal gardens and the spectacular view of Naples Bay. The interiors are soft color tones to create a comfortable, engaging ambiance that is elegant but relaxing.
